Gable - Insulation between and under rafters – Unventilated/Ventilated rafter void

If a service cavity is used at ceiling level, a perimeter insulation strip with minimum thermal resistance of 2.27m²K/W should be installed between the wall insulation and roof insulation. For U-values down to 0.12W/m²K, a full Quinnlite inner leaf is used. For more information contact Quinn Technical.